FOREWORD....

These pages are merely to serve as a "picture-diary" for the campus co-eds and Joe-colleges to look over so that their college days will always be something real and pleasant. The Annual staff has worked hard to get the pictures and data compiled and every member will feel duly rewarded if this book affords you some degree of enjoyment.

A GLANCE....

A glance at a picture of our campus is a suggestion for us to remember the many experiences that we've stored up during the time we have spent in dear old Main Building, and ambling down the walks of W. C. Whether it be in the Spring - - - with the tangy, earthy atmosphere calling us to come closer, or Winter, with the trees standing like proud guardians of the white snow vistas, we have grown to think of our campus as an ever-present friend.

FACULTY....

Here we can get a glimpse of that group which keeps our fountain of knowledge forever bubbling and overflowing. Not only do our professors give us the requisites of technical knowledge, but also they serve as sources of inspiration, giving advice here, encouragement there, and criticism wherever it is needed.

JUNIORS....

Those who are not learned and sophisticated like the Seniors, nor bold and progressive like the Sophomores - - - and better still, not "green and timid" like the blooming crop of Freshmen. Nevertheless, we feel that they'll be fully competent next year when they pick up the reins where the class of '40 leaves them.

SOPHOMORES....

Sophomores, forward march! Make way for the class that has well departed from the "age of innocence" sometimes associated with those of Freshmen rank. Yes, this crowd is ready to exert its full quota of vim, vigor, and vitality toward college spirit and the betterment of our campus life.

FRESHMEN....

Behold the group of mortals who have spent a year learning to study and to be "adults," not to mention those "could-be-tough" days of Frosh initiation with knee pants, pillow cases, and sunny-day umbrellas, - - - and also frat and sorority "hell week" with its pale and sunny countenances, respectful (?) bows and curtsies to actives, and dog-eared signature books. Could it be that they've finally got that "ship of life" christened and shoved out into the bay?

College! College! place of higher learning - - - in both the classroom and on the campus, lessons and activities go hand in hand toward the rounding out of a "college-bred" individual. So, though we diligently peruse our texts in quest of chemistry formulae or historical data, we may also be musing about the luck of our basketball team in the next game, or then again we might be pondering over the prospects of a "dazzle-date" for the next college dance.

Wilmington College Independent Club

The Independent Club founded in April, 1940, is the youngest organization on the campus. Its constitution was drafted by prominent campus leaders—with a program of progressive ideas and democratic procedures. Membership is open to all students who are not affiliated with a social fraternity or sorority. The organization will promote and support activities which are for the best interests of the college, and it will strive to bring about more co-operation and good feeling among individuals and groups on the campus. The Club was organized and launched with faculty approval by 40 students who had seen the need of such an organization to cope with the situation that confronted the Independents.

Pictured on the opposite page are Tommy Thompson, Delton Yager, Junior Hartley and Maud Moore who were the popular choices to pilot the youthful club through the first year, 1940-1941.

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association was organized to broaden and enrich the lives of members by higher standards of friendship and service.

The "Y. W." does much to make Freshmen week easier for the incoming girls. Each serves as a "big sister" to the girls in the Freshmen class and give a dinner and pajama party in their honor during this week.

The "Y. W." has sponsored one chapel program each month and with the "Y. M." sponsors the Gospel Team. The "Y. W." season culminates in the annual May breakfast and a tea for the senior girls of the county. The advisers are Miss Elder and Mrs. W. R. Pyle.

Y. M. C. A.

On the campus the Y. M. C. A. strives to encourage a Christian attitude among the students and to promote cooperation and friendliness through undertakings of mutual interest. Some of the activities sponsored by the "Y" are the Freshmen Week activities, the engagement of speakers for chapel programs, the encouragement of student participation in chapel devotions, Gospel Team work, and the Lake Geneva Student Conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. At least one delegate is enabled to attend this conference each year. During the past year the Y. M. C. A. together with the Y. W. C. A. sponsored the establishment of a Student Union Building which provides headquarters for the "Y" organizations, a place of recreation for all students, lunch room facilities, and a meeting place for various honorary scholastic fraternities on the campus. We wish to acknowledge the contributions and cooperation of those who have made possible the realization of this building.

Gospel Team

The Gospel Team has fulfilled seventeen engagements this year, thus completing a very successful season. This year several members have gained fifteen points by their participation in the programs, and are thus entitled to a letter. The team is sponsored by the "Y" organizations for the purpose of giving students an opportunity to use their talents in religious expression.

Co-Ordinating Committee

The Co-ordinating Committee was created for the purpose of so scheduling and organizing the college social calendar as to reduce to a minimum the number of conflicts, and in such capacity, has proved to be of much value. It has also under its general supervision all student-faculty relationships, and has been particularly interested this year in promoting the activities of the Student Senate.

Faculty members and students serving on this committee are: Chairman, Dr. George Howgate, Dean Lois Elder, Coach Miller, Don McKay, Rosemary Becker, and Jane Scott.

Student Senate

The Student Senate is a representative organization of the student body and is composed of four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman; all chosen by the student body. It is the duty of the Senate to supervise all college elections, May Day exercises, and to act as an agent of the student body in all matters pertaining to the interest and welfare of the students of Wilmington College. The members of the Student Senate are: Jane Scott, President, Onda Bahns Secretary, Esther Van Houten, Treasurer, Rosalee Hallsted, Gerald Hedrick, Rosemary Becker, Robert Terrell, Don McKay, Paul Boyd, and Harold Hiatt.

Wilmingtonian Staff

Little can be said about this group on this page, because, after all, the results of their entire year's work are to be found between the covers of this book. Among their jobs have been the tasks of assembling information, taking pictures, arranging the material, writing the copy and numerous other little businesses which are necessary for the production of a year book.

"Ye Quaker Quips"

——— a newly formed organization of embryonic William Randolph Hearsts and Dorothy Thompsons (with now and then a tendency towards Walter Winchellism), who manage most of the time to publish a rather readable sheet of campus going's and gossips.

Of course, there is much room for improvement, but given some more time in order to acquire some journalistic knowledge from experience (who runs a dear school, remember?) and the "Quips" will hit its stride in a fully developed style.

Alpha Psi Omega

By way of actual experience behind the footlights, members of Alpha Psi Omega have had prominent parts in both college plays this year. In the fall, Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" received the plaudits of local play-goers and this spring the melodrama, "Under the Gaslight," met with an equal amount of success. Also a very effective Christmas play was presented in chapel entirely by this organization. Special credit should be given to Miss Helen McCoy, dramatics instructor and director-in-chief of these various presentations.

Members of this organization are:

Allen McKay, Director-President, Don Snyder, Secretary-Playwright, Joe Wientjes, Treasurer-Business Manager, Robert Constable, Jane Scott, Rex McMillan, Virginia Wolfe, Esther Applegate, Marie Frasure, Kathryn Todhunter, Paul Boyd, John Carey, Janie Boring, Betty Speer, Harold Hiatt, Kathryn Swisshelm, Mary Kinzel, Louisa Metzger, Jane Emery.

Among the outstanding events of the year was the Fall banquet which was held at the Cincinnati Club and the Second All-College Review in which all the organizations on the campus took part.

The Second National Convention was held April 4-5 to mark the fifth anniversary of the founding of Zeta Sigma Pi. It opened with a chapel program Thursday, April 4, with Judge Hugh J. Wright speaking. At this time the visiting delegates from other chapters were welcomed. Judge Henry J. Robinson, Chief of the Division of Public Assistance of the State of Ohio, spoke at the fifth anniversary banquet which was held at the General Denver Hotel, Friday, April 5.

May Queen

The coming of May is celebrated by the crowning of the college May Queen, which is always done on Illumination night. The May Queen is chosen by popular vote of the student body from the girls of the Junior class. This year Miss Jane Scott, of Toledo, Ohio, will yield the crown to Miss Rosemary Becker, of Fayetteville, Ohio.

Zeta Sigma Pi All-College Review

Zeta Sigma Pi rang the bell with a top-notch performance when they stimulated an interesting amount of competition among the various organizations, and the result was extremely profitable to all concerned by way of experience as well as financial.

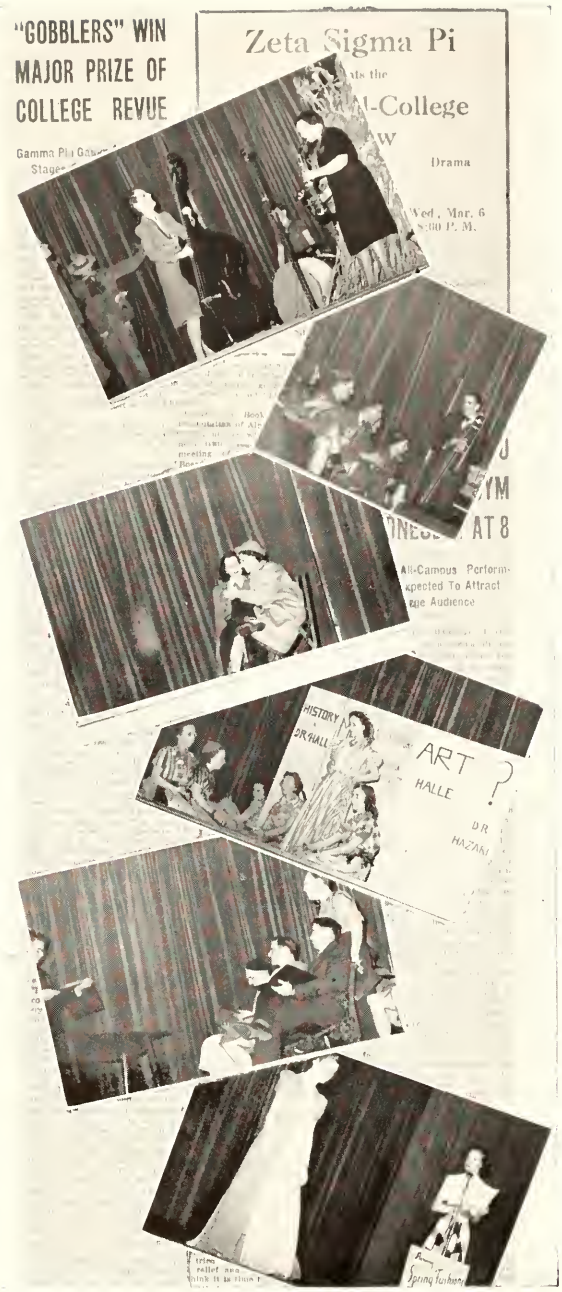
The Gobbler fraternity marched off with first place with their snappy interpretation of a "bus stop" at a busy depot. "Scorch" Bowman portrayed Coach Miller, "Too-Tall" Tucker shined shoes, "Suzanna" Hiatt sang his "thhpfft, ssss and snort song" and Dick Swindler beat it out on his drums 'nuff to put Krupa on a back seat.

Second place went to the W. A. A. girls who gave such a fetching demonstration on football in their shorts and high heels. Nice game, girls!

Following in third place was the clever melodrama put on by Alpha Psi Omega. Even the audience (judges included) were petrified by the villainous actions of "Simon Legree" Wientjes, but little "hair ribbon and heart throbs" Frasure gave the necessary romantic twist so the result was not unpleasant.

Fourth place honors went to the Delta Omega Theta sorority girls who gave such a pleasing insight into a day in the life of a Wilmington College co-ed. Janie Boring read the rhymes of the script while the girls enacted the day's activities. Outstanding ones being Jane Scott as "Smitty," Treesa Van Buren as a typical "Joe-College," and Virginia Wolfe who was a tap-dancing chorine.

The other acts afforded much enjoyment, were ably presented and deserve a great deal of credit for the success of the show.



Sigma Zeta

Sigma Zeta fraternity was founded in 1915 by nine men and has since grown to a total membership of 300, with 26 members in the active chapter.

This year's social season was begun with a hay ride and has included two informal dances, the pledge dance, the annual stag banquet and the formal dinner-dance in the Netherland Plaza Hotel, Cincinnati.

Alpha Phi Kappa

The Alpha Phi Kappa sorority was founded on the Wilmington College campus in 1921 by eight charter members. Since that time it has grown to a membership of 217 alumnae and 26 active members. The purpose of this organization is to promote friendship and loyalty and to uphold all the traditions of Wilmington College.

The social calendar of this year included a Christmas party for the less fortunate children of East End school, a Christmas dance sponsored by the alumnae, the gingham formal pledge dance, and the spring formal in the Pavilian Caprice at the Netherland Plaza Hotel, Cincinnati.

Tau Theta Chi

In 1924 six girls of Wilmington College decided there was a need for a third social sorority on the college campus, and these six girls became the charter members of Tau Theta Chi. In the sixteen years since, this group of girls has increased to a membership of approximately 200. The aim of the group is to carry out the founders' guiding principles that breadth of mind, ability, and character should be placed above mere social status.

This year's activities have included the fall dance, spring pledge dance, and the spring formal, as well as several informal parties, with the alumnae house party and a benefit bridge.

Delta Omega Theta

The Delta Omega Theta Sorority was founded at Wilmington College in 1907. It is the oldest Greek letter sorority on the campus and was founded by six girls who realized the need for social development, comradeship, and responsibility toward other collegiate organizations.

The social calendar of the sorority has included several informal dances, the pledge banquet and dance, and the annual spring formal at the New Lookout House in Cincinnati.

Organized in 1907, Gamma Phi Gamma is Wilmington College's oldest and largest social fraternity, having a membership of 33 actives and 333 in the alumni chapter.

One of the largest pledge classes in the history of the Gobblers went through the initiation this spring, with 20 freshmen being inducted into the fraternity. Highlights of the year included a dance at Barney Rapp's "Sign of the Drum" at Cincinnati, the rush party, annual pledge dance, a number of stag parties, and a party at Peelle's park given by the pledges. The social season was climaxed by the Spring formal, June 7. "Bus Stop," directed by Aunt Mary Mills gave the Gobblers first prize in the All-College Review.

Athletics at W. C.

Our little Quaker School is very old and its buildings go back to the days when a football looked like a volleyball and a basketball was just beginning to be tossed through a peach basket.

Since then Wilmington College has come a long way in establishing a "place" for herself as an athletic power in our Buckeye state. Of course, as is true of almost all success stories, there have been rough spots and times when even the best weaken, but there has always seemed to be something about our campus, our faculty, our students, and our players which has kept our teams ever fighting to win and which has won for them the name of "Fighting Quakers."

Our traditional motto at W. C. is evidently, "the bigger they come the harder they fall," because all athletic teams, wearing the Green and White, have faced, game after game, opponents from larger schools. It seems impossible that our peaceful and friendly little Quaker school should ever have met and played such schools as Purdue, Xavier, Detroit College, University of Florida, Ohio State Reserves, University of Cincinnati, University of Dayton, Miami, John Carroll, Morris-Harvey, and many others, but proudly they have and fought through to victory as many times as they went down to defeat.

Since football was discontinued at W. C. we have concentrated on becoming a power in basketball and baseball, and for the last four years, our teams have ranked among the best each year, while still continuing the policy of playing only the best opponents.

So why shouldn't we at W. C. be proud of our school and our success in athletics, which has spread the name of Wilmington College to so many places as the "Fighting Quakers"?

Homecoming Queen

Miss Jane Furnas, sweet and attractive sophomore of Waynesville, was elected 1939-40 Homecoming Queen of Wilmington College by the members of the Quaker basketball squad just before the homecoming game with Morehead Teachers College, Morehead, Ky.

Co-captains, George Steele and Wilbur Wearly, on behalf of the basketball squad, presented Miss Furnas with a beautiful gold cup during the intermission of the game, after which she reigned on a special throne for the remainder of the contest.

The 1939-40 Wilmington College Homecoming proved a tremendous success as a very great number of W. C. grads were on the campus for the Homecoming events, which were climaxed by the "Fighting Quakers" thrilling victory over the strong Kentucky school, 29-27.

Basketball

Had "Lady Luck" smiled just a little more favorably on our "Fighting Quakers" in their heart breaking overtime games with the University of Cincinnati and Earlham, they would now be acclaimed as one of the state's outstanding teams, but as it is the Quakers were just a good team while winning 10 and losing 8 games.

Traditionally the Quakers play only the larger and tougher teams of the state and in so doing have established a prestige and respect for themselves over the state. This year was no exception and from the spirit of the student body it is evident that they realized the fact

Co-captains, Wilbur Wearly and George Steele, Charles Rulon, and Bernard Bowman are the graduating players, but with Keith Wearly, Ed. Payne, "Tip" Towles, Hobart Scott, Malcolm Tucker and Denver Stacey as a nucleus, Coach Miller should have another outstanding team next season.

Lest we forget: Five straight victories stopped by U. C. in two overtimes; "Scotty's" red Packard packed with several barber shop harmonists; "Tip's" eighteen points against DeSales; "Flip" Wearly, All Ohio honorable mention; Ed. Payne holds All Ohio Weaver to six points; Steele waits four years to beat U. C. but——; the trip to Toledo; the famous front row cheering section.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association has completed what was undoubtedly its most active year since its organization. The membership of this organization is interested in promoting wholesome recreation for college women. The association is governed by an administrative board which supervises the activities.

Much interest is exhibited in the team tournaments which are conducted in basketball, volleyball, softball, and soccer, and in the individual tournaments which are scheduled for tennis, archery, horseshoes, badminton, deck tennis, and shuffleboard.

Honorary teams were chosen for basketball, volleyball, and soccer. Members of these teams were selected on the basis of ability, participation, and sportsmanship. Honor teams are as follows:

Basketball—Marion DeMar, Captain, Onda Bahns, Betty Brown, Miriam Brown, Verla Daniels, Helen Glass, Ercil Meranda, Betty Miller, Mary Jane Peterson, Ruth Scott, Eleanor Wall, Irma Wirick.

Volleyball—Miriam Brown, Captain, Bahns, B. Brown, Daniels, DeMar, Glass, Haerr, June Kennedy, Meranda, Miller, Eileen Stroth, and Wirick.

Highlights of the season's activities were the Sadie Hawkins Shindig, the mock football game for the All-College Revue (awarded second prize), basketball and volleyball games with Cedarville College, the Homecoming game between the college women and the alumnae team, and Play Day activities at the University of Cincinnati.

Baseball

Baseball is definitely becoming a major sport at W. C. as Coach Miller announced a twelve-game schedule which includes Ohio State Reserves, University of Cincinnati, University of Dayton, Earlham, Capital, Wilberforce, and Cedarville.

An exceptionally strong team is expected as over twenty men reported for baseball practice. Among these are seven lettermen: "Flip" Wearly, catcher and holder of a try-out with the Cincinnati Reds, Keith Wearly, pitcher; Scott; Rulon, .567 hitter; Bowman; Goodwin; and McNemar.

Tennis

With only "Chuck" Seegar, last year's number one man returning to the courts, Dr. Howgate, Quaker tennis team coach, will have the hard task of rebuilding this year's edition. The new men who will be battling for the other positions are: Charles Farquhar, Tom Haines, Aaron Hause, Carroll Bolender, and Paul Boyd.

Track

One of the largest track squads in several seasons will represent Wilmington College in the thin clad events this spring. Coach Miller has a tough schedule arranged with the following schools: Dayton, two meets; Earlham, two meets; Cedarville, two meets.

Co-captains Ed. Payne and Don Bogan will head the squad with other strong performers.

Bowling

Wilmington College was represented for the first time in a number of years by a bowling team during the winter season. The Quaker team rolled in the Wilmington Commercial League and finished fifth. Although the team was fairly inexperienced, they showed definite promise of becoming a contending team in another year.
